To neither group is there the stimulus of success with effort. To one group there is success without effort; to the other there is effort without success. The difficulty, it is feared, is enhanced by the want of ability or inclination on the part of many teachers to adapt each lesson s requirements to the capacity of individual members of the class. There are some signs of reaction against a system which encourages or permits a dead uniformity of ability and effort. The only fear is that the opposite extreme of individualism will be sought as a remedy. As between the practice by which forty or fifty pupils of all degrees of ability...
